

December News - Updated 12-06-08

Written by FEP Admin

Monday, 01 December 2008 17:23 - Last Updated Saturday, 24 January 2009 04:27

FourEyedPride has another great sponsor. If you've been on the boards, you've probably noticed that the Wheels, Tires & Brakes forum has a sponsor. BaldGuy Designs came on board in October. BaldGuy Designs is owned by long-time FEP member n20capri. They offer custom centercaps for factory and aftermarket wheels, window decals, graphic design, web design, flyer printing and much more. If you have a local car club needing promotion, or even a business, give BaldGuy Designs a look.

With the help of FEP staff and members, we have added a LOT of interesting new material to the Library

. There's more than we can list in this update, but here are some highlights:

- Lots of magazine feature articles featuring early Foxes from major publications in the Post Four-Eye Era

Magazine area.

- Tech articles from the days when the magazines actually covered these cars regularly. We'll be adding more as we come across them.

- An interesting 85-86 GT Buyer's Guide .

- Several selections from magazines of the era with articles about these cars.

- We're also starting a Special Interest/Limited Production section in the Library, to somewhat parallel the area of the same name on our message board.

12-06-08 Two new tech articles have been added! Capriman86's long-awaited Marchal fog light restoration article is now available.

FEP Supporter Paul has contributed an article about trimming and looming \(and not your typical looms, either\) plug wires to make for a much cleaner appearance in your engine compartment.

AND

The Featured FourEyedRIDE selection for January 2009 has begun.

Check out the rules and the nominees here

!